

Table of Contents

About the Author	5	Lead Training
		Keeping Your Puppy Safe
Acknowledgements	6	Introducing an Adult Dog to Your Home	75
Photo Acknowledgements	7	One Dog or Two
Forward	8	Meeting Other Family Members
Introduction	9	Establishing a Routine
Dog Behaviour	10	Adopting an Older Dog
History of the Stafford.....	13	Diets.....	81
Description of the Breed	16	Commercial Diets
Physical Appearance		Fresh Foods
Life Expectancy		Special Needs
Temperament/ Personality		Keeping Your Stafford Healthy	91
Compatibility with Other Pets and Children		Visual Examination
Breed Standards	26	Vaccinations
Kennel Club Recognition		Endoparasites & Ectoparasites
Breed Clubs		Teeth and Nails
The Ideal Stafford Owner	31	Grooming
Dogs Cost Money!		Anal Glands
Social Needs		Sterilisation
Physical Needs		Exercise & Play
Environment		Common Canine Health Issues	125
Training Requirements		Arthritis
Checklist for the Ideal Stafford Owner		Cancer
Where to Find Your Stafford	37	Cataracts
Breeders of Purebred Dogs		Diabetes
Pet Shops		Heart Disease
Rescue Shelters and Stafford Rescue Groups		Stafford Health Issues	137
Selecting a Healthy Stafford	45	Genetic Disease
What should you expect from a Supplier?		Higher Incidence Disorders
Veterinary Certification		Lower Incidence Disorders
Available Health Screening		Other Health Issues Affecting Staffords
Pedigree Papers and Contracts		Your Responsibilities as a Dog Owner	144
Visual Examination		Basic Training and Obedience
Selecting an Adult Dog		Being a Good Neighbour
Bringing Your Puppy Home	57	Respecting Wildlife
Preparing For Your New Puppy		Irresponsible Practices
The First Days		Old Age and Your Dog
Diets and Feeding Regime		Resources	154
Toilet Training		General Resources (including National
		Kennel Councils and links to Breed Clubs &
		Standards)
		Health Resources (including Disease Testing
		& Information Organisations)
		Further Reading	